Dear Stanford Infant School Families

One of the children at our school is receiving medical treatment and is immunocompromised. This puts the child at serious risk if exposed to chicken pox, measles or shingles.

The best way to protect a pupil from measles is for all children to be immunised against measles. Please discuss measles immunisation with you GP if your child is not already vaccinated. If you suspect your child has measles please contact the school immediately.

The child is also at risk from chicken pox and would need to be given a medication promptly after contact. Please let the school know immediately if you suspect that your child has chicken pox.

It is also very important that you let the school know if anyone in your household has shingles.

Your own child is not at any risk whatsoever from this situation. However, the health and well-being of the child may be at serious risk. We depend on the co-operation of all families thank you in advance for your support.

Kind regards

Madeleine Denyer
